The Current State of the Art in Gaming and Games for Learning
Would you teach using this (or any) man’s work without having read any of his works or knowing anything about him?
When I reviewed television, people said "If you hate television so much, how come you've got a television set in your house?". Stephen King even said "You know, Harlan's got a big TV.". Yes, that's right. I try to be courant. I try to know what it is I'm talking about. I am not like many people who give you an opinion based on some sort of idiot hearsay or some kind of gut feeling you cannot validate. When I give an opinion, I do my best to make sure it is based on information.

The Hype &
The “Reality”
Is it better to discuss it, or ignore it?
Sept 13 2006

Both the BBC & CNN were quick to report that the shooter played violent video games.

He also wore a long black coat.

To their credit, the CBC did not.

Columbine Massacre Game voted one of The 10 Worst Games of All Time (PC World)

“Do violent video games inspire horrific, violent acts in the real world? No one really knows for sure.

Do horrific, violent acts in the real world inspire violent video games? Absolutely.”

“Like the developers of JFK Reloaded, another recreation of a historic murder, the creator of SCM RPG claimed lofty aims. On his Web site... Ledonne says the game “asks more of its audience than rudimentary button-pushing and map navigation; it implores introspection.”

‘...as a game, Super Columbine Massacre RPG is appalling.’

Hype AND Reality

“In Second Life up to US$500,000 in user-to-user transactions take place every day, and the economy is growing by 10 to 15 percent a month.”
